Complete Collapse Threatens UN Drive

WITHDRAWALS ARE FORCED BY RED UNITS

TOKYO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Complete collapse of the United Nations and the war offensive was threatened today by heavy new Chinese attacks on the frozen northwest Korean front.

The U. S. 24th division, its right flank imperiled by infiltrating Red forces, pulled back from Chongju near the west coast.

It was the second time this month that the battle-hardened Americans were forced to give up without a fight the rail and highway city 51 miles south of the Manchurian border.

Situation Confused

All along the northwest front, allied forces were shoving and elements of two Chinese Red armies—more than 100,000 men. Swarms of Chinese attacked in predawn darkness to the flare of bugles.

A spokesman described the situation as "quite confused."

Field dispatches said the eastern anchor of the line, Tokchon, had fallen to the Reds.

In the northeast, a surprise tank-led Red attack forced back South Koreans advancing north of Chongjin, some 55 miles north of the Soviet Siberian border.

Stiffening Red resistance was reported elsewhere in the north-east. U. S. Marines, pushing westward in a drive from Chankin reservoir, were halted by dug-in Chinese four miles west of Yidam.

Rok Lines Infiltrated

On the northwest front, the 24th division's withdrawal from Chongju was forced by Chinese slipping through the Republic of Korea (ROK) First division lines southward of Taechon. The 24th division itself was not under attack.

On the Rok First division's right flank, the U. S. 25th and Second divisions battled the Chinese since a breakthrough Monday.

A U. S. First corps spokesman said the 25th was hit hard in the Majon area, six miles northeast of Yongbyon. He said the situation there was critical.

A correspondent Don Whitehead, with the U. S. 25th division, sized up the situation this way:

"The big United Nations offensive to bring an early end to the Korean war was threatened today by complete collapse today. This was the stark reality of the situation after 48 hours of savage fighting. Chinese and North Korean Red troops have dealt a stunning blow."

China Reds Make Appearance At UN

By TOM OCHILTREE.

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Chinese Communist representatives made their first appearance before a United Nations body today while the soldiers of their government were locked in combat with UN troops in Korea.

The Peiping Reds made a dramatic appearance in the general assembly's political committee as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinskiy was elaborating on Russian charges that the United States was guilty of aggression against China.

S. Delegate John Foster Dulles countered with a charge that Russia was trying by every means to poison the friendship of the American and Chinese people.

Simultaneously the assembly's special political committee debated broad principles of representation. A decision on that point is expected to determine whether the Reds or the Nationalists will occupy China's seats in the United Nations.

In still a third body—the executive board of the U. N. international children's fund—the Chinese Reds came within one vote of winning full membership.

The board split 12 to 12 on the issue but is scheduled to ballot again later in the day.

Vishinskiy accused the United States of transforming Formosa—last stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists—into a military base and of clamping a naval blockade on the island to introduce a resolution calling on the general assembly to take action.

Mahon Critical Of Slowness On Defense Budget

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A tall soft-spoken Texan, who heads the house military appropriations subcommittee, hinted today he intends to "put the spur" to the defense department's budget planners.

As Rep. Mahon, Democrat, sees it, they have been just joggling along while congress took an election recess. "I'm very disappointed at their slowness in working out a budget program of emergency military needs," he said.

Forces Can't Agree

Mahon returned to Washington in advance of congress' reassembly. His first meeting on Wednesday. He had expected to get the budget request from the White House about Thursday. Instead, he found that the army, navy and air force apparently can't agree on what are the most urgent needs.

The 1950-51 military budget (covering the fiscal year which began July 1) started out at $14,970,000,000. Shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war in June two emergency requests from the White House boosted it to $26,775,000,000. When congress went home in September, it directed another request would be ready when it returned. The figure generally mentioned around the Capitol was $10,000,000,000.

Senators Take Oaths Of Office

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Two freshmen senators—Willis Smith of North Carolina and Earle C. Clements of Kentucky—arranged to take the oath of office today. Both are Democrats.

They are the first to begin service of a crop of 14 new senators elected Nov. 7.

Three other new faces will appear in the senate shortly.

Frank Carlson, 57, Republican who resigned as governor of Kansas after his election, will take the oath Tuesday or Wednesday.

Richard M. Nixon, 37, California Republican moving over from the house, probably will take his seat Dec. 5.

John O. Pastore, 43, Democratic governor of Rhode Island, expects to resign and come here after Dec. 5.

The other freshmen senators are scheduled to take their places in the new session starting Jan. 2.

The date on which a senator starts his service is important because seniority, or length of service, is a controlling factor on choice committee assignments. Committee chairmanships are normally given on a basis of seniority.

Lame Duck Congress Gets Under Way

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Congress reconvened today for a short "lame duck" session and got a prod from President Truman to extend rent controls and vote statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

But most of the legislators, in talking with newsmen, said frankly they did not expect much to be accomplished in the few weeks remaining before the new congress elected Nov. 7 takes over on Jan. 3.

Republicans, who will have increased strength in the new congress, obviously were in a mood to put off everything except emergency legislation until the 82nd congress meets.

Truman sent a letter to the Capitol asking a 90-day extension of the rent control program which will expire Dec. 31 in most cities. He plugged for statehood for Alaska and Hawaii at a conference with Democratic congressional leaders.

In line with Truman's wishes, the leaders made statehood for Alaska the first order of business for the senate.

At the same time, however, an agreement was reached to lay that measure aside temporarily whenever there are appropriations or other emergency matters to handle. If the Alaska measure goes through, statehood for Hawaii will be next on the docket.

The schedule was outlined to reporters by Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) after the White House huddle of the party's legislative leaders just ahead of the opening gavel.

Lucas said Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) would move to take up the Alaska measure. But he would not forecast the chances for passage. There has been talk of a filibuster by Southerners. The motion

British Lawyer May Argue Case For Communists

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed to let an acknowledged left-wing British lawyer argue the appeal of 11 convicted Communist leaders. But the tribunal refused to give him more time to prepare.

The case is scheduled to be called next Monday.

The Communist leaders had asked that the argument session be put off until Jan. 22, or later. They said this would enable D. N. Pratt, former member of the British parliament, to be heard.

In requesting the delay, the Red leaders said Pratt had a previous engagement in India in late December which would make it difficult for him to be here next Monday.

The 11 were convicted of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

While refusing to postpone the argument, the court granted a request of the Communist leaders that they be allowed a total of two hours for argument, instead of the customary one hour.

The court's action in effect says Pratt may appear but only if he can get here by Dec. 4.

Census Bureau To Make Recheck On Use Of Lands

DALLAS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The census bureau will make a partial recheck of farm land uses in 32 Texas counties, census area supervisor James W. Stroud announced today.

Approximately 25 field men will recheck the accuracy of figures taken during the regular 1950 census. Stroud said some discrepancies had been noted in the county figures and the census bureau wants to find out why.

Similar rechecks are being made in other parts of the nation, the Washington census bureau said today.

The workers will be directly supervised by the area office here.

Counties involved, Stroud said, are Ward, Terry, Ross, and Kerr. Karnes, Duval, Jim Wells, Wilbrey, Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron, Orange, Chambers, Matagorda, Brazoria, Fort Bend, Galveston, Harris, St. Augustine, Kaufman, Hopkins, Hood, Cottle, Childress, Dawson, Andrews, Presidio, Brewster, Coke, Eastland and Comanche.

Six Are Indicted For Refusing To Answer Queries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Earl Browder, one-time No. 1 American Communist, and five other persons were indicted today on charges of contempt of Congress.

The indictments were based on the refusal of the six to answer questions asked by congressional committees or to give requested information.

Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip Jaffe were accused of contemptuously refusing to answer questions during a Senate investigation of "Communist-in-government charges."

Edward A. Rumley, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and two others were indicted for refusing information asked by a House lobby investigating committee.

The others were Joseph P. Kamp, executive vice chairman of the Constitutional Educational League, and William J. Patterson, executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress.

Conviction for contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Browder bossed the American Communist Party for years until he apparently missed a turn in the party line from Moscow and was removed from his job several years ago.

Browder, Field and Jaffe were cited by the Senate Sept. 22.

The Senate's action upheld a recommendation by a foreign relations subcommittee which investigated Communist-in-government charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.)

Truman Asks Congress To Extend Rent Controls To Aid Defense Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Truman today asked that congress extend rent controls until March 31. The present control program expires Dec. 31, except in cities which decide they want to keep controls for six months longer.

Acting shortly before congress reconvened, Truman sent letters to the capitol saying he felt the controls should be kept in force until the new congress, meeting Jan. 3, has a chance to pass on the rent control issue.

"Vital to Defense"

Truman's letters went to Senator Maybank (D-SC) and Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of the senate and house banking committees. Those committees handle rent control legislation.

"We are stepping up our production of defense items and increasing our industrial capacity," Truman said. "To carry out this program

Miami U. Given Orange Bowl Bid

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The University of Miami today accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl here New Year's Day.

St. Groves Morrow, president of the Orange Bowl committee, said the invitation was extended to the University of Miami officials today. The invitation immediately was accepted.

The Hurricanes are undefeated in nine games but were tied by the University of Louisville 13-13.

No mention was made by Morrow of an opponent for the Hurricanes in the annual year-end classic.

Troop Train And Freight Collide In Georgia Town

SCREVEN, Ga., Nov. 27.—(AP)—A troop train carrying about 300 draftees and recruits smashed into a freight train at this small town depot today and both engines burst into flames. Several trainmen were hurt but all the soldiers escaped serious injury.

Most of the soldiers were just arriving in Pullmans when the accident happened shortly after 6:30 p. m. (CST). Officers in charge of the train said all were accounted for, but some suffered bruises and minor cuts.

Fuel oil from the Diesel engines spewed over cars of both trains and over the small depot, and in a few minutes a tremendous fire was raging. The engines were telescoped into an arch. The first three or four cars of each train were badly damaged.

The train gave this account:

An Atlantic Coast Line freight was either parked or moving slowly at the depot in this town of less than 1,000 persons, about 75 miles south of Savannah, Ga.

The troop train of nine cars was approaching at a speed of 40 to 45 miles an hour. The engineer saw the freight and began applying his brakes about three-quarters of a mile away. The brakes failed to hold.

Crewmen abandoned the freight, and just before the crash most of the crewmen on the troop train jumped.

Three of the cars of the troop train were from Fort Devens, Mass., and six were from Fort Meade, Md. They were headed for Camp Rucker, Ala.

West German Rearmament Foes Score Big Gains In Sunday Bavarian Vote

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 27.—(AP)—West Germany's Socialists—bitter opponents of German rearmament for Western defense—scored big gains today in Bavarian state elections.

With returns still incomplete, the Socialists were running a strong second to the pro-rearmament Christian Democrats in the balloting Sunday for members of the state parliament.

Third Protest

The surprising Socialist showing in this traditionally conservative state was certain to be interpreted as a third protest vote within a week by German voters against rearmament.

Hesse and Wuertemberg-Baden voted Socialist victories on Nov. 19 in elections widely regarded as a slap at the Christian Democrats, who control the federal government.

GRIEF, HUMAN MISERY AND INDUSTRIAL PARALYSIS IN WAKE OF MAULING WEATHER

By the Associated Press

The storm which mauled the whole northeastern section of the nation with record fury over the weekend has vanished today but grief, human misery and industrial paralysis lingered on.

At least 236 deaths were blamed on the devastating winds along the Atlantic Seaboard and the heavy snow which fell as far south as Mississippi and Alabama. Damage in New England alone was estimated at $100,000,000, with threatened floods expected to add to the cost. Most of western Pennsylvania and northern Ohio still were digging out of snow which brought business to a virtual halt in such cities as Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus, Akron, Youngstown, and Dayton.

The death toll by states as a result of the storm: New Jersey 31; New York 31; Connecticut 6, Maryland 2, South Carolina 2, North Carolina 2, New Hampshire 1, Massachusetts 2, Indiana 10, Illinois 5, Ohio 51, Pennsylvania 23, Michigan 19, Kentucky 11, Alabama 13, West Virginia 11, Georgia 2, Tennessee 4, Delaware 2, Vermont 1, Virginia 1, Maine 2.

The wind which hammered parts of the Atlantic seaboard with force of as much as 108 miles an hour at times was described by the weather bureau as the worst ever to hit that region. It left many areas still without power service today and thousands still shivering without heat or lighting. Losses to boat owners were the heaviest since the 1938 hurricane.

Rains Accompany Wind

The blow was accompanied by torrential rains which had sent some New England streams out of their banks. Some others were threatened to overflow. New York City, however, harvested a 25-day water supply. The city reservoir trapped 25-billion gallons, building up a needed reserve supply.

Remnants of the storm business in the snow-bound sections of Pennsylvania and Ohio still was not in sight today.

Transportation facilities were too crippled to carry sufficient workers to their jobs. Many schools, including Penn State College, Bucknell, Juniata, Pittsburgh University, Duquesne University and Carnegie Tech in Pennsylvania, all were closed for the day at least.

All public and parochial schools remained closed in Pittsburgh where the snowfall measured a record of 23 inches. Mayor David Lawrence declared a state of emergency in the city and appealed to the federal government to pay off their jobs and help clear the city's side streets. U. S. Steel Corporation

Blazes In Eight States Result In Death, Damages

By The Associated Press

Fires in eight states caused at least 12 deaths Sunday and destroyed more than $5,000,000 worth of property.

Among buildings hit were a Minneapolis hotel, a Hyannis, Mass., lodging house, the Arizona State Hospital for Insane, two college dormitories and a prison barracks.

15 Persons Injured

Fifteen persons suffered injuries. Four persons died in flames that swept the Hyannis, a residential hotel in Minneapolis. Six persons were injured. The hotel occupied the top three floors of a four-story building.

The dead were listed as Nels Olsson, 65; Henry M. Jamming, 67; Mrs. Edna Sell, about 45, and an unidentified man. The property loss was expected to reach more than $500,000.

In Hyannis, flames gutted a two-story wooden lodging house causing the deaths of Joseph M. James, Jr., 24, Edward Kelley, 22, and Eino Mattson, 48.

Convicts Unharmed

Three hundred convicts escaped injury when flames destroyed a wooden Alabama state prison barracks near Montgomery. The fire was believed to have started from the chimney of a coal heater, overtaxed by 20-degree weather.

The fire occurred before dawn. Guards and trusty prisoners awakened the sleeping inmates. None of the convicts attempted to escape after they left the flaming barracks.

A fire raged for three hours and whipped through three blocks of buildings in Moultrie, Ga., a cotton and peanut center in the southwest.

Continuous Bipartisan Advisory Unit On Foreign Policy Is Latest Proposal

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) proposed today the creation of a continuous bipartisan advisory committee to help President Truman shape the nation's foreign policy.

Such a commission should be unaffected by national elections, Johnson said "so that we would have a permanent foreign policy and other nations would know where we stand at all times."

Hendrickson Backs Taft.

Johnson's proposal came as Senator Hendrickson (R-N.J.) announced his support of a demand by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) for a re-examination of the American role in international affairs. It came too, amid indications that much time of the short Congress session starting today will be occupied in foreign policy debate.

ENCOURAGING GROUP

It was cautious and conservative encouragement which was given by Great Britain to the movement for some kind of federation of nations in Western Europe, but at least it was encouragement. Hitherto Britain officially has looked coldly on the general idea, and specifically opposed the Schuman Plan for a steel and coal pool and the proposal for a unified European army. Now James Callaghan, British spokesman to the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe, has told the body that Britain will attempt to work with and support the steel-coal cartel or a political federation. There is no sign of intent to join, however.

This is a small concession, but may be important. The British aloofness unquestionably has been a strong factor in delaying moves toward working unity on the continent up to now. The most potent delaying factor of course remains—the reluctance of individual nations to give up sovereignty to an international body.

The first sacrifice of sovereignty might yet be made, however, in development of one of the specific plans now being discussed in Europe—the steel-coal pool, the unified army or the establishment of real powers for the Council of Europe. European leaders are perhaps beginning to concede that they face loss of a degree of national sovereignty in one way or another, either voluntarily through these plans for unity or involuntarily to the expanding Soviet bloc. The nations which have been drawn within the Soviet orbit have lost much more of sovereignty than would have to be given up to a federated government in Europe. This can be seen by leaders in other European nations, and ought to influence their thinking.

RESISTANCE FOR PEACE

"There is little hope of a nation dedicated to peace resisting the brutal effort of men trained to war." These words are from the cable of Tsepon Shakappa, finance minister of Tibet, to the United Nations asking for intervention in the Chinese Communist invasion of Tibet. The appeal was probably in vain, since Tibet is not generally recognized as a sovereign nation. The argument that it is not such, but a province of China, is one of the rare points on which the Chinese Communists and the Chinese Nationalists are in complete agreement.

The Tibetan's statement sounds like a refrain of hopelessness for peaceful nations. The results of any serious attack against Tibet are likely to prove its truth in regard to that nation. Tibet is known as a mysterious forbidding land, where strangers may rarely enter. Yet the nation has little armed force, and few prepared defenses. It has relied on the natural protection of its high, difficult mountain passes and severe climate, and its own peaceful ways. These are enough to control casual travelers, but not to turn back an invading army.

The fate which befalls Tibet might be the lot of any other nation which placed too much reliance in its own peaceful intent. Natural barriers, whether of mountains or of water, are not in themselves effective against modern machines of war; they become formidable only when strongly and skillfully defended. The nation which wants both peace and liberty must gird itself as if for war. We hope that it may not always be so. But that is the condition which prevails today.

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE.
At times I have ventured when sitting alone,
To sort out the happiest people
I've known
And none were the richest and none had won fame,
But others were glad when to visit they came.

They all had had trouble and sorrow to bear,
But the heartaches of others
they'd hasten to share.
Their homes weren't pretentious;
their gardens were small,
But they always had blossoms
from springtime to fall.

They were humble, God-fearing and patient and brave,
For the needs of their children
they struggled to save.
They were loved and loved
content with their lot,
Which sometimes the wealthy

THE VOICE AND THE EAR

There is a general opinion that Russian propaganda against the United States needs to be countered, and one of the tools available for doing so is the Voice of America, the official radio voice of the government. The Voice gets much advice, some of which says that it should be more vigorous in attacking Russia.

The Voice of America has just lost its outlet in Iran. The state radio station, which formerly rebroadcast Voice programs, will no longer do so, nor rebroadcast any further foreign radio programs. The reason appears to be that the attacks of the Voice against Russia and its officials were too much for Iran, which regards friendship with Russia as a matter of practical wisdom.

"He does not write at all whose poems no man reads," remarked the first century wit Martial. It is an old theory of physics that no sound is really made unless there is an ear to hear it. Certainly the Voice of America is no voice unless it has listeners.

Americans often wonder how anyone can listen to the continuous abuses of the Soviet propagandists, which so often take no account at all of obvious facts. Seeking to counter these outpourings, we must take great care that we do not fall into similar errors. If our own propaganda is to get a hearing, it must seem reasonable to its hearers and must take full account of things which appear to those hearers as obvious facts. We need our Voice, and we need ears to hear it.

Whether victorious or defeated the political campaigners all have something in common now. They are glad that at last the election is passed—and so are a good many other people.

WORLD'S EARLIEST TOWN

How far back does civilization reach, and where did it begin? For a long time historians were inclined to think Egypt the oldest country, and a famous authority, the late James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago, even ventured to set the fixed date in history. B. C. 4241, the date of a certain astronomical event. A later weighing of the evidence would reduce the time to this remote period by some 1,500 years.

Now comes Dr. Robert Braidwood, another University of Chicago archaeologist, who has been excavating in Iraq, the Babylonia of the ancients. He has found enough bits of grain to fill a matchbox. This find, which sounds unimpressive, is on the contrary highly striking, because it represents the first traces of ancient agriculture that can be dated. They come from a community called Jarmo, which is known to have existed at least in B. C. 5500, and probably several centuries earlier.

Babylonia seems just now to be the likeliest region in which to find the beginnings of civilization. Until some site proves to antedate Jarmo, this is entitled to honor as the world's earliest known town.

Now that cooler weather is at hand life will be safer—at least we aren't so likely to find junior's missing roller skate by the slip-and-fall method.

Special days are all right in their way, but no such should be needed for remembering the ones you love.

Cards Pop Bulldogs, 27-7 Thursday Before Homecoming Crowd At Athens

Navarro's Bulldogs went down before the Henderson County Cardinals, 27-7 in Athens Thursday afternoon in the final season game for both grid teams. Keyed up before a homecoming crowd, the Cardinals received the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards for a touchdown. From then on, Navarro was behind. Tailback Jerry Caton scored the lone Navarro point, going over from 7 yards out in the third quarter. Jimmy Sorrells converted. Don Maxey scored the first Cardinals touchdown, going over from 7 yards out in the third quarter. The second was scored by Quarterback Owens, on a 20 yard gallop.

Temple Wildcats Will Meet Austin; Corsicana Led In Offensive Play

Temple's Wildcats collected their first district 13-AA title since 1945 last Friday night in Waco, and now represent this schoolboy football district in district play against Austin High, District 14 winner. The win over Waco last week showed Waco down to third place and Corsicana, which posted Ennis 7-13 Thursday, thus clinched second place for the 1950 season. Wacoahachie came through to get its only win of the 1950 season in defeating Hillsboro 8-0. They threw Waco, Hillsboro and Ennis into a three-way tie for the cellar spot, as all teams except Temple hang up their meekness. Over the full season standings, Corsicana led in offensive play, rolling up a total of 409 points in 10 games and allowing only 65 against it. Temple was second in this department, and Ennis nosed out Waco for third in the scoring, though the Wacoans were slightly ahead in the won-lost department. Ted Dawson's Wildcats thus represent this circuit in district play against Austin—a team that Corsicana had hoped to meet under those circumstances. Temple, which seemed to grow stronger as the season progressed, lost two early-season games to Baytown and Austin, both of which are the winners last week in their various districts. Temple had only one bad night in district play, nosing out Ennis on a bitter cold night, 6-7.

White's Chapel HD Club Meets

The White's Chapel Home Demonstration Club met in regular session at the community center Wednesday with Mrs. R. B. Garrett presiding and Mrs. Jack Haglar in charge of the opening exercises. Reports of committee chairmen included a Home Demonstration Council Report by Mrs. S. A. Beeman.

Plans were made for a Christmas party that will take the form of a covered dish luncheon at the center on December 18th, beginning at 11 a. m. and ending with the home of the club's demonstrators—Mmes. Frank Merrill, Rufus Pevehouse and Homer Butler, wardrobe, and Mmes. P. P. McQuiston, Chas. Dobbs and Claude Breithart, central demonstrators. A program has been planned for the afternoon. Committees in charge of the Christmas luncheon will be Mmes. S. A. Beeman, Jack Haglar and M. E. McQuiston. Mmes. W. N. Hamilton and Chas. Watkins, food. Rug Demonstration. A feature of Wednesday's meeting was a rug-making demonstration by Mrs. J. C. Johnson and Miss Addie Parish. Another highlight of the meeting was a demonstration of banana bread-making by Mrs. F. P. McQuiston. Hostesses for the meeting, Mmes. Roy Patrick and F. P. McQuiston, served refreshments to twenty-six members and two visitors, Mmes. A. S. Thompson and E. M. Bowden.

Corsicana Man Killed Sunday

W. W. Steward, 28, pipeline, 637 North Thirteenth street, Corsicana, was killed Sunday in an unusual accident. Associated Press reports from Selma, Ala., reveal that Steward, a former Corsicana policeman, was killed when a burning gasoline tank exploded and plowed into a crowd of pipeline workers. Steward had joined the construction crew Saturday, the day before his death, having left Corsicana Tuesday. Eight others were injured. The workers, according to the Associated Press, had gathered a supposedly safe distance on a slope overlooking the spot where the 500-gallon tank burned on a large tractor truck. Flames suddenly spurted 250 feet into the air and the tank plunged toward the workmen. The accident is said to have happened on the Southern Natural Gas company pipeline which will extend from Louisiana to South Carolina.

Steward died in a hospital 30 minutes after the accident. The pipeline, a Navy veteran of World War II, was a motorcycle cop with the Corsicana police department in 1946. Surviving are his wife, three children, Wanda June, aged 7; Carolyn Joyce, aged four, and Margaret Diane, 20 months; parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Steward, all of Corsicana; two sisters, Mrs. Alma Darl Garland, Abilene, and Miss Audrene Steward, Corsicana; a brother, Ole Steward, Corsicana; grandmother, Mrs. Etta Steward, Dresden, and other relatives.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of the parents who were located in Kentucky Monday morning and are en route home. Corley will direct.

Uniforms Issued To Bulldogs And Tiger Cage Clubs

Basketball practice got under way today at Corsicana high school and Navarro Junior College, and other Corsicana schools plan to begin workouts within the next week. Coach Ken Clark and Coach Otis Pederson called out their respective squadmen for issuance of uniforms and for the start of the season meeting that starts the bounce-ball era each year. The State Home Laddies were to take week of rest before beginning next Monday, Dec. 4.

Kenneth Stegall, the little grid speed merchant, in the line 1950 error back, but he'll get able support from Lettermen Bobby Galt, Charles Stack and David Corley. Coach Pederson had little to announce in the way of a schedule today, except to say that the Tigers will enter a tournament or two, later in the season. He said his crew would not enter the Dallas tournament for high school teams, as it has been in the past, because of the fact that the local crew will not be as far along in its practice as most of the teams entering.

Aerial Attack Is Uncorked Against Ellis County Crew

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

The Corsicana Tigers bowled over the Ennis Lions, 7-13 on Tiger field Thursday afternoon to clinch second place in the district race for 1950.

For the first quarter the scrapping Lions made a contest out of it, but the Corsicana aerial game began to take effect after that, with Duane Nutt, Buddy Caton and Bruce Howard doing the tossing, and from then on in the contest was never in doubt.

The Tigers, many of whom have played their last high school game, turned in a tough, smart ball game, capitalizing on the lion mistakes and turning them into touchdowns almost without fail.

Murray Byrd's crew gave the Tigers plenty of competition during the first quarter, with Larry Cooke and Kenneth Vavra carrying most of the burden.

Passes Backfire
An alert Corsicana pass defense foiled the Ennis attempt to take to the air with success. Kenneth Stegall ran two of the interceptions back for touchdowns, and Rayborn Matthews also scored via that method.

Nutt, who did not start the game because of his knee, nevertheless played on offense much of the first half and flipped touchdown passes to the Ennis crew. Three errant passes, four of them to Charles Stack and Donald Tubbsville. Rated as the top Texas schoolboy passer in many quarters, Nutt proved it with his losses Thursday, for he threw a wild one, nobody saw it.

Several boys who in all likelihood will play much for the Tigers in 1951 played well. Bruce Howard and Buddy Caton performed well, engineering two touchdowns in the final period. Howard also revealed a talent for point-after-touchdown placement conversions.

Throughout the fourth period and much of the third, most of the Tiger second string were in the ball game, and they acquitted themselves well.

The scoring total might not have been so high except for the way the lion pass attack backfired on the visitors. Three errant passes were run back all the way. Corsicana receivers dropped at least three sure touchdown passes.

Corsicana drew first blood in the game on a 74 yard drive, with Nutt's 44 yard pass play to End Don Tubbsville being the scoring play. Bruce Howard converted.

Ennis roared back to tie it up in six plays, with Larry Cooke passing to Kenneth Vavra for 36 yards, and Cooke skipping over from the Tiger 18 for the score. Paul Howard converted.

Ennis engineered a drive in the closing minutes of the first period, but it didn't pay off until the second quarter. Vavra hit Paul Todd with a pass good for 48 yards to the Tiger 6 on the last play of the first period. Three plays later Vavra rammed over from the 1 yard line, and Howard's conversion placement was wide.

Corsicana roared back to score three times in the second quarter. Nutt hit Stack for 26 and 25 yard touchdowns. Passes, at Howard missed both placements after score to make the tally 26-13. In the final seconds of the first half, Rayborn Matthews intercepted a pass on the Ennis 45, and went all the way, with his mates cutting the defenders down. Howard converted by placement, and the score read Corsicana 33, Ennis 13 at the half.

During the halftime period, the Ennis band formed a cross on the field, and played "Holy, Holy, Holy," in observance of the holiday occasion, and the Corsicana band and visiting band saluted the crowd with special formations.

Corsicana scored four times in the third period. Two were on pass interceptions. Stegall scored on the first interception, from 45 yards out, and Howard converted.

Then Ennis fumbled on the Tiger 35, and David Corley recovered there. The Tigers drove from there with Nutt passing to Stack, who lateraled to Stegall, who in turn went 56 yards for the score. Howard's kick was wide and the count was 46-13.

From there on, most of the Tiger second string took over. Jimmy Cravens, who played scarcely half-dozen plays, because of an injury last week, intercepted another Ennis pass on the Tiger 43, and returned to the Lion 25. Buddy Caton got loose to the 18 and then carried over on a buck. Howard's kick was wide.

Stegall, at safety spot, intercepted another pass shortly after and went 65 yards for a TD. Bruce Howard passed to Matthews for the point to make it 59-13—all the scoreboard would bear.

Howard Sparks Drive
The second string engaged both touchdowns in the final quarter. Howard climaxed a 43 yard drive to ram over from the 3 yard line, and converted the extra point. Howard shortly after passed to Stack for 57 yards and a touchdown.

LaVell Isbell, Tiger tackle, scored his first point of the year when he converted by placement. There was only time for the return of the ensuing kickoff before game-end. Despite injuries here and there, team closed their final district contest in a blaze of glory. And the youngsters who will carry the Corsicana banner in 1951 lent hope to those who view the departure of Nutt, Waco, Matthews et al, with alarm.

Contrary to some opinions, in the event of a three way tie between Corsicana, Temple and Waco, the district representative would not be determined by a vote of the coaches. Rules in this district that have been in effect for the past two years provide for a coin flip.

Unofficial attendance here on Thursday afternoon was 4,090.

ANOTHER OUTSTANDING EXAMPLE OF PROPER FARM PLANNING

A few years ago Mr. Marvin E. Wallace bought a farm that was worn out and considered one of the least productive in the county. By careful planning and the liberal use of legumes and other soil builders he has been able in a few short years to convert it to one of the most productive we know of. His per acre yield on land planted to cotton and corn the last two years is as follows—

— Cotton —

1949 ..... 483 Pounds Lint

1950 ..... 407 Pounds Lint

— Corn —

1949 ..... 52.8 Bushels

1950 ..... 58.1 Bushels

Mr. Wallace is to be congratulated on this excellent farm management and the reclaiming of a farm considered lost forever.

Other farmers desiring to rebuild their farms so as to make farming much more profitable and pleasant are urged to ask our assistance. We will help you plan and will be most cooperative in helping you finance your needed improvements.

This is the second in a series of articles recognizing the farmers of Navarro county who have had the highest per acre production the last few years. The first was Mr. W. Lewis David. There will be others as they come to our attention.

Life for most of the Eastern Seaboard's millions was getting back to normal today, 48 hours after the great Appalachian storm spread death and destruction from South Carolina to Maine.

The death list in the coastal states and New England stood at 76, threatened to grow as delayed reports came in from isolated areas. Some estimates put property loss at $100,000,000 in the northeast alone.

Most power, traffic and telephone service torn up by the storm was restored yesterday, but many areas still were cut off—mostly suffering from power failure.

Thousands still shivered from lack of heat and met the darkness with candles—if they were lucky enough to have them.

The storm itself moved away from the coastal region Saturday night, leaving behind a cold wave that hovered just under freezing.

Storm Blowing Out
 Contrary to all normal weather movements in the northern hemisphere, the storm's center turned northeast instead of continuing northwest. It left New York only to swing over Lake Erie, then down on northern Ohio, and then north-west again over Lake Huron. When the weather bureau said it was blowing itself out today.

This was the storm center only. Around it on all sides were raging, snow-laden winds whirling over nearly 600 miles in every direction and hitting from Maine to the Mississippi river at their widest span.

On the storm's earlier northeast passage, the shore areas were ripped by winds with gusts up to 103 miles per hour, and drenched with rain.

The deluge in the New York City watershed area alone was enough to pour 25-billion gallons into the city's reservoirs—a 25-day supply of water that was one of the storm's few bright spots. Upstate New York, the rain turned to snow and perilled at least 100 hunters in the Lake

Many Deaths Caused. Storm deaths came from many causes. Many were electrocutions from fallen power lines. One man was killed by a falling cornice in New York City. Others drowned, died under falling trees, from exposure, in storm-caused traffic accidents, or from heart attacks brought on by exhaustion and strain.

The weather bureau said the storm was nearly a "land hurricane" and rated it the worst ever recorded in the northeastern United States.

All along the coast today were the signs of its passage—smashed beach houses, flooded flatlands, washed-out bridges, broken trees, windows and a perfect harvest of television aerials. Boatowners took extra heavy losses—greatest since the 1938 hurricane.

Even Manhattan's stone and steel blocks were still roped off where cornices and parts of buildings roofs and windows had ripped away or seemed about to give.

Much of Pittsburgh's booming industry, well acquainted with periodic strike shutdowns, ground to a halt for another reason this time. Workers could not get to work.

The weather forecast today called for cloudy skies with a possible two to four additional inches of snow. Forecasters predicted slowly moderating temperatures with a low tonight of 20 degrees.

Civilian Defense Chairman Ross Loeffler asked air raid wardens and civilian police to stand by their radios for calls to emergency duty.

More than 2,000 men are trying to clear main traffic arteries in the downtown section. Thousands more are working in the suburbs. New York City made its trucks and other vehicles available for the gigantic task.

The steel capital's previous biggest snowstorm came in 1925 when 28.2 inches was recorded.

Work crews filled huge trucks with snow and sent them lumbering off to Pittsburgh's rivers—along the Monongahela and Ohio—to dump their loads. The clang of shovels against cement rang out on downtown streets.

But despite the snow clearing efforts, auto travel is hazardous where possible at all. More cab drivers and motorists, however, ventured onto main thoroughfares, their wheel chains rattling.

Season For Mishaps Arrives; Fires Hit Dry, Grassy Pastures In County

By CLYDE JOHNSON

Daily Sun Staff

This is the season for mishaps—cracked blocks, frozen water systems and that disastrous enemy, fire.

The farmer can protect his machinery with anti-freeze, proper lubrication and other "winterizing" practices. But it's difficult for him to keep wasteful blazes from his dry, grassy pastures.

Hundreds of fires have swept over the county already this month. A careless smoker, a match-tossing motorist, is usually behind this needless destruction.

A report was received last week of deliberate fire-setting along Highway 75. Although unconfirmed, the report told of a motorist mischievously tossing matches from his car in the tall grass beside the highway.

There are other causes—trash burning and "small" grass burning that is swept out of control.

And each time the wall of slurs is heard, a fireman is endangering his life; the blazes destroy property, and the taxpayer must bear the fire-fighting cost.

Some cattlemen in the county, having large acreage in pasture, have prepared fence lines so as to prevent highway fires from entering their land.

Speaking of pastures, recent experiments show that good pastures produce as much livestock feed per acre as high yielding corn or grain sorghums on the same type of land.

The county PMA convention was held at the courthouse Monday. A new county committee for the 1951 agricultural conservation program was to be named.

More than a score of applications for government assistance in building farm tanks have been received by the PMA since its announcement last week that approval orders would be issued "first come, first served."

It's estimated that about 30 tanks will be constructed under the recent supplemental allocation of PMA funds for this county.

One police patrol car rushed two expectant mothers to a hospital within hours. Two other patrolmen carried an expectant mother in their arms through deep snow when their patrol car could get no closer to a hospital.

 Now, Mahon said, the military planners have not determined on any specific figure and their tardiness in spelling out a program may keep congress on the job up to Christmas eve at least. The new congress takes over Jan. 3.

May Delay Congress
 Mahon indicated that if the department can't agree quickly on a program, representatives of the individual armed forces may be called in for their views on what they need most to meet defense obligations.

Congress could then act to meet these needs and leave less urgent ones to go over until the next session, Mahon said.

Ed Fortner Home From Canada

Ed Fortner has returned from the Northwest Territory, Canada, where he spent the summer months. Fortner exhibited a photograph of a ranger's cabin along a highway near the lake where his headquarters were maintained, showing a sign painted by Fortner, that revealed Corsicana, Texas, was 3100 miles away. Other points and distances included Johannesburg, South Africa, 8700 miles; and Berlin, Germany, 8027 miles.

Open House Will Honor New Pastor

Friends throughout the community have been invited to attend an open house at First Baptist church Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, which is to honor the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Shamburger, formerly of Winnsboro. The Rev. Shamburger has been recently called to the pulpit of the local church. The reception will take place in Fellowship Hall.

Industrial Site Is Sought Here

The Chamber of Commerce industrial committee is in contact with three industries which have expressed an interest in locating plants in Corsicana.

Chamber officials said they were interested in finding 20 to 30 acres of land on a main highway and near a railroad. They said this amount of land was needed by one of the concerns.

Both statehood bills passed the house last week.

The scheduled plans came under fire almost as soon as they were announced. Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), the Republican leader, told newsmen his party will not go along.

The Nebraska said he thinks the lame duck session should be taken up the bill is subject to debate.

His major efforts to passing tax legislation and emergency appropriations.

Beyond that, he said, he sees no emergency requiring action before the new congress meets in January.

Wherry called on President Truman to revise his domestic and foreign policies "to square with the results of the recent election" and submit a new program to congress.

He put the President's request for rent control extension in the category of business that can wait.

That was another point of conflict with Lucas' plans. The Democratic leader expressed hope to newsmen that congress will pass a temporary extension at the short session as requested by Truman.

He thought committee hearings would be "very short."

In line with that idea Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate banking committee called a committee session for 9 a. m. CST Tuesday to consider the President's request.

Price Support Set For Cotton

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The agriculture department announced today it will support grower prices of 1951 crop cotton at 90 per cent of parity—the same level as this year's crop.

The agency said that farm law permits supports as low as 75 per cent of parity. But need for increased production next year prompted the decision to keep supports at present levels.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices. It is defined by law to be equally fair to producers and those who buy their products.

The actual support rates for cotton, in dollars and cents, will be determined next summer on the basis of the Aug. 1 parity price of cotton. This year's rate averages 29.45 cents a pound for the base grade. However, cotton is bringing more than 40 cents a pound now because of a shortage in supplies.

Postmaster Asks Early Mailing Of Christmas Gifts

G. C. (Jake) Hudson, Corsicana postmaster, urged his annual appeal for correct addressing and early mailing of Christmas greetings and gifts. He predicted this year's flood of Christmas mail will break the 1949 high when a record of 310,000 pieces of holiday mail were cancelled.

"Handling this huge volume of Christmas mail will tax postoffice facilities to the limit," he said, but he predicted everything will be delivered if the public co-operates. Packages for distant points should be mailed by Dec. 2, and Christmas packages for nearby points should be at parcel post windows by Dec. 9. Christmas cards for out-of-state points should be deposited by Dec. 15, and cards for local delivery at least a week before the holiday. He urged the earliest possible mailing of all kinds of mail. Hudson also requested the public to buy stamps early before the last minute rush and long lines of customers at the windows.

Capt. Harllee Writes Of Work In Tokyo Hospital

Miss Elizabeth Harllee has received a holiday message from her niece, Capt. Frances Harllee, who is now a Special Service Officer at the General Army Hospital in Tokyo, Japan. Miss Harllee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harllee of San Jose, Calif., former Corsicanan, visited relatives here before sailing for Japan on May 2nd.

Capt. Harllee has charge of the many gifts that are sent to the hospitalized soldiers in Tokyo. Seven radio sets were among the most recent gifts sent to the hospital. Flowers from the Children's UN Service Society were also sent recently for the wounded soldiers that have just been brought to the Hospital from Korea. Capt. Harllee states that the Japanese are very thoughtful of the hospitalized American soldiers and are continually showering courtesies on them.

In order that the soldiers in the Tokyo Hospital may keep up with the latest war news, a huge wall map of Korea is marked with pentagon markers and bomb markers to trace the progress of the UN forces. Capt. Harllee has written her aunt.

When the late Al Johnson went to Japan, he took with him the UN soldiers. Capt. Harllee had the pleasure of escorting him through the Army Hospital in which she is stationed.

Capt. Harllee writes that 75 per cent of the women of Tokyo wear American-made clothing, but those outside of the city wear clothing suggestive of one hundred years ago.

Capt. Harllee states that she has seen General MacArthur several times, and that he is always accompanied by armed guards.

GOOD NEIGHBOR RELATIONS IN HANDS OF CORSICANAN AND OTHER NATIVE TEXANS

Uncle Sam's good neighbor relations south of the border are now very much in Texas hands, with a former Corsicanan and two other native Texans now holding three of the State Department's most important positions concerned with Latin America. These facts were revealed in a recent article by Leslie Carpenter of the Washington Bureau.

R. R. Rubottom (Dick Rubottom to his Corsicana friends), who was born in Brownwood, has lived in numerous Texas cities, including Corsicana, and once was assistant dean of student life at the University of Texas, heads the Mexican Affairs office which concentrates on relations with Mexico.

Thomas Mann of Laredo heads the State Department's Middle American Affairs office and supervises relations with all governments from the United States border through Panama, including the islands of the Caribbean.

The Warren of Wolf City in north central Texas is chief of the South American Affairs office, taking up where Mann leaves off and going on south.

The Mann-Rubottom combination represents the first time in history that a Texan has played a key role in the conduct of affairs between the governments of the United States and Mexico. No Texan has ever been ambassador to Mexico, although many have wanted the job, Mr. Carpenter reveals. The rumor, never confirmed officially, has always been that Mexico would not accept a Texan as the United States ambassador.

But Mann and Rubottom are working from the other side of the street, Mr. Carpenter points out. They sit in Washington between the Mexican legation and the secretary of state.

Concerning the three Texans, Mr. Carpenter says Mann, Warren and Rubottom are smart, hard-working, and have been highly respected by their co-workers.

Eagles Scored Winning Markers In Fourth Period

A fourth quarter rally that netted two touchdowns gave the favored Valley Mills Eagles a 26-13 victory in Mexia Friday night over the scrapping, lighter but game State Home Laddies of Corsicana.

This victory sent the Valley Mills contingent into the Class B Regional finals. State Home was the representative of District 22-B while Valley Mills carried the standard of District 21-B.

The passing of Fred Weir and the running of Don Mullins proved too much for the lighter Laddies. When the Corsicanans stopped the running gains, the Eagles took to the air with ease to turn the tide.

Laddies Play Well
The underdog State Home crew, however, played one of its better games of the season and threw a scare into the undefeated Eagles by grabbing an early 6-0 lead and then held a 13-13 tie at the beginning of the final period.

Leon Hull and Jimmy Rush of State were continual threats as they swept the ends and broke through the rugged Valley Mills line for gains.

The entire Eagles' line played jam-up football, while the backfield found difficulty in moving over the Green and White boys from Corsicana.

The first Lad score came early in the game. Mullins attempted to punt from his 13 but a wave of Corsicanan linemen broke through to block the punt and sent it bounding back into the end zone where Macca Ben Lawrence, end, recovered for the touchdown. Charles Smith missed the attempted conversion.

The Eagles retaliated with a drive starting on the 45 and 12 plays later Bobby Roberson carried over the counter with Weir converting on a quarterback sneak.

On the last play of the second quarter, Valley Mills scored again—on a pass play. After hitting Gerald Meyer for 42 yards, putting the ball on the 29-yard line, Weir picked off a perfect strike to Bobby Roberson. The extra point failed, giving Valley Mills a 13-6 lead at the half.

Score is Tied
State Home tied the count in the third quarter with the help of a 15-yard penalty and a fumble. The Laddies had driven from the 28 to 40 before being forced to punt. The ball bounced into a Valley Mills player and State Home recovered on the 30-yard line. Two plays were required. After a yard advance, Jimmy Larkin took a hand-off and scored from the 29 with Charles Valley Mills scored on the first play of the final session when Roberson carried over from the one to culminate a 70-yard drive that was started in the previous quarter. Mullins ran over the extra point.

The last marker came from a ground advance of 65 yards in 10 plays. Don Mullins set up the scoring play when he scampered 22 yards before he was hauled down on the one from which point Roberson carried over.

This is the third year in a row that State Home has competed in bi-district B play.

Valley Mills chalked up 22 first downs as compared to 9 by State Home and gained 289 yards rushing to 69. Valley Mills made 91 in the air to 48 by the Laddies.
